

IV
The estrangement between the properties of inner and outer reality - sensations arise from the cleavages set up <sup>by</sup> the senses.
It brings into existence duality which suggests separation - which is not separateness but extension.
Two are seen separate from each other which are partial expressions of mind in whose inclusiveness all is impartial.
